BALLABROOIE
HIGH GROUND, BANGALORE.

26th September 1918.

Your Highness,

Your Highness will be pleased to hear that the heavy rain which I wrote of in my last letter has been general in the Maidan Taluks - it is raining in Bangalore which I am writing this letter -

We had a meeting this afternoon of Members of Council & the principal officers at which the situation was reviewed - steps necessary to control prices and minimise distress wherever it may exist-are being taken.

The agitation created by his pleas has subsided - All our principal officers were wide awake and kept the situation under control.

The Hon. Mr Cobb returned from Simla 4 or 5 days ago - He said H.E. the Viceroy was not likely to visit these parts for another year. He was just enough to bring information about some of the important cases pending with the Govt of India.

I will come to Mysore on or after 1st October as advised in a telegram by Mr Morgan under your Highness's orders.

We are all happy at the early prospect of your Highness's return to the State.

I beg to remain,
Your Highness's devoted & humble servant,
M. Visvesvaraya.
